End Point Assessment

Strategic Business Proposal

The assessment method is the production of a strategic business proposal, presentation and questioning. The strategic business proposal must be undertaken after the apprentice has gone through the gateway. A strategic business proposal involves the apprentice completing a relevant and defined piece of work that has a real business benefit. Apprentices will prepare and deliver a presentation that, along with the strategic business proposal, appropriately covers the knowledge, skills and behaviours gained from the learning assigned to this method of assessment. It will be followed by questioning from the independent assessor.

Presentation with Questioning

A presentation with questioning involves an apprentice presenting to an independent assessor. It will be followed by questioning from the independent assessor. Apprentices will prepare and deliver a presentation that appropriately covers the knowledge skills and behaviours learnt from the programme assigned to this method of assessment. The purpose of the questioning is to seek clarification of the strategic business proposal or presentation, to assess the depth and breadth of knowledge, skills and behaviours (KSB) and to assess those KSBs that the apprentice did not have the opportunity to demonstrate with the strategic business proposal, although these should be kept to a minimum. The presentation must be submitted at the same time as the strategic business proposal, 12 weeks after the gateway. The independent assessor should have two weeks to review the strategic business proposal prior to the presentation. The apprentice needs to notify the EPAO at the submission of the strategic business proposal of any technical requirements for the presentation component.

Maths, English and Functional Skills within the Apprenticeship

All apprentices have the opportunity to develop English and maths skills as part of their apprenticeship and will need to develop skills sufficient for competence in their chosen apprenticeship standard.

A 16-18 year old must complete functional skills qualifications if they do not hold existing qualifications.

An individual aged 19 or over that does not hold existing qualifications, should decide with their employer if they would like to achieve functional skills but these would not be needed to achieve their programme.
